Well, just like the small pox and whooping cough, it seems that littering is back in full force. I can not believe the amount of trash that lines the eastside hwy and 93 S. It looks absolutely horrible. It reminds me of Mexico. Most of this trash is flying out of the back of pickups and from construction sites, don't people know how to tie down and cover up their stuff? I don't want to see someone else's junk along the road. Is it possible to create a PSA bringing this problem to everyone's attention and to ticket those that are carelessly hauling stuff around? Contractors/developers have a responsibility to make sure that all that plastic wrap and insulation isn't allowed to fly all over creation.

When you drive up and down 93 and east side hwy the Big Sky Country name is really starting to fade. It's a real shame. I would appreciate any help in this matter. Thankyou.
